Edward A. "Trip" Casson, SLP Chairman & CEO, announced, "Due to sustained and significant increases in aluminum cost now standing at 40%, compounded by cost increases in component raw materials and health care, out of necessity, Southern Lithoplate will increase lithoplate prices. The economy coupled with the market environment we are navigating require us to best support our customer partners by implementing this increase with minimized price adjustments. SLP will work with each of our customer partners to ensure the minimum necessary increase, and to reward loyalty, as we continue to demonstrate our long-term commitment to print."
